Transportation Safety for Wheelchair Riders and Children with Disabilities

The ability to offer high quality training and the ability to attend trainings specific to wheelchair riders and children with disabilities has been difficult. In response, Eleanore's Project, Inc. is offering the first annual Institute featuring Sue Johnson, Director of Education from Columbia Medical. The program will cover best practice approaches to vehicle transportation for individuals that require a wheelchair or an adapted car seat. This topic is highly relevant and necessary for those who use or drive private vehicles, school buses, and/or public transportation. Participation is limited to 125 participants and 15 vendors. We invite you to be a part of this remarkable event.
